

Question	Strongly Agree	Agree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
The processes of Data Management are the most important
The products of data management are the most important
Enterprises should have the ability to develop and/or evolve their own DM/CMM questionnaire
DM/CMM are useful to record changes in progress
Projects should be able to have a DM/CMM rating of 5
Programs should be able to have a DM/CMM rating of 5
Departments should be able to have a DM/CMM rating of 5
Business Units should be able to have a DM/CMM rating of 5
Enterprises should be able to have a DM/CMM rating of 5
DM/CMM questionnaires should be related to project deliverables
DM/CMM questionnaires should be matched against Data management goals
DM/CMM questionnaires should be matched against Idealized methodologies
DM/CMM questionnaires should be matched against Existing practice methodologies
DM/CMM questionnaires should be able to have measurable ROI
A tool/system of this type should be available on a least a project based server.
A tool/system of this type could be used to help distinguish quality and integrity across IT projects
Projects, Programs, Departments, Business Units and Enterprises should be able to "self assess"

I think this would be a useful activity and/or product for my organization, and so....
Name
Organization
Phone Number
Email	